

“The Big Bang”

Earth’s Age & Population

This pamphlet quotes scientists and takes a common sense, scientific look at ‘the Big Bang Theory’, as it states in ‘The Academic Press Dictionary of Science & Technology’ that science is:

to discover FACTS.. to formulate laws and principles based on these FACTS.. that can be verified or tested by further investigation.

The ‘Big Bang’ Explosion

George Lemaître, by many hailed as ‘the greatest scientist that you have ever heard of’, was a Belgian priest, astronomer and professor of physics at the University of Leuven. He proposed and suggested the theory that the expansion of the universe had originally resulted from the explosion of a superatom, which hurled materials in all directions, and set the universe in motion.

The meaning of theory is something suggested by someone as a reasonable explanation for facts.

Facts concerning explosions

My aunt got killed in an explosion. Activate over one thousand explosions and they are all destructive, with no exception. We have all seen the results: dead, burned or maimed bodies and surroundings. Every single one is destructive. Yet, we’re led to believe that the ‘Biggest Bang’ and greatest explosion of all times was a creative one.

This is ‘let’s suppose’ pseudo-science and opposite of any reasoning science, which is supposed to be based on facts, tests, proven results and formulas.

This literally takes the lid off Pandora’s Box as no proof or evidence is needed to support this science.

A ‘Pandora’s Box’ has come to signify the source of endless complications or trouble, one whose origin is deceptively simple. (ancienthistory.about.com)

Life on a Sterile Earth?

Evolution states that, “The earth was able to support life only after the planet had cooled enough for a rocky crust to solidify”, and that “life was formed in the primordial ‘soup’ of the early seas...” *

We don’t know how long this cooling down process was, but one fact about life we do know is, that in order to kill bacteria, viruses, protozoan, parasites, amoebas and all life forms, science has proven that we should boil or burn the items.

The earth was much hotter than the boiling point of water. Hence the earth was 100%, completely sterile just like we sterilize needles, syringes and scalpels.

The (simple) Merriam Webster dictionary for STERILE:

*not able to produce crops or plants.
not able to produce children, young animals, etc.
not able to grow or develop.*

The Big Bang... How?

“We don’t know, it just happened!” If I ask any of my children “Who did this?” and they answer me, “We don’t know, it just happened” then I know that they are not telling me the truth.

Law of Biogenesis

Louis Pasteur formulated the Law of Biogenesis that, ‘living things come only from other living things.’

This law has been criticized and contradicted, because it doesn’t fit the evolution thought pattern of spontaneous generation.

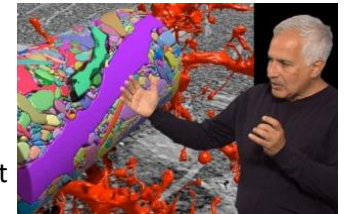

Although contradicted and criticized because of ‘advances in germ theory and cell theory’.

These are all theories and not one single scientific experiment has proven the ‘Law of Biogenesis’

wrong. Pasteur also said, ‘Spontaneous generation is a dream fantasy.’

The Human Brain

Neuroscientist Jeff Lichtman (MD, PhD, Prof. molecular & cellular biology) lectured at Harvard about the complexity of our human brain and that if we try to index it we need several billion petabytes of data storage.

(1 petabyte = 1000 terabytes = 1.000.000 Gigabytes).

This shows that to attempt to index our brain, we need at least 2 billion petabytes, which equal 100 million times all Google data, as of July, 2013.

Encyclopaedia Britannica

If I insist and tell you in all sincerity, that there occurred an explosion in a print shop, and consequently the 32 volumes of ‘Encyclopaedia Britannica’ came eventually together as a result, then obviously I have lost my reasoning senses and you will advise me to see a psychiatrist, and you should.

Yet, the Encyclopaedia Britannica is non-living matter, which has much greater probability to be assembled from non-living matter, than living matter being assembled from non-living, sterile matter.

To index the encyclopaedia takes 1 (one) gigabyte. To index our brains, not to mention the rest of our body, takes at least two quadrillion gigabytes.

My theory of the Encyclopaedia Britannica evolving from a print-shop explosion is obviously nonsensical. However, it is 2,000,000,000,000,000 times more probable than my brain eventually coming together from an explosion in space.

Harvard Cracks DNA Storage

The article explains, 'The work, carried out by George Church and Sri Kosuri, basically treats DNA as just another digital storage device.. DNA can survive for hundreds of thousands of years in a box in your garage.. in a droplet of DNA that would fit on the tip of your pinky. To store the same kind of data on hard drives — the densest storage medium in use today — you'd need 233 3TB drives, weighing 151 kilos..

Biological storage allows us to record everything..' (www.extremetech.com/extreme/134672-harvard-cracks-dna-storage-)

The Absolute Pinnacle of Science

With unbelievable complex DNA biological data storage taken from living creatures, there should be no doubt in anybody's mind that there has to be an incomprehensible genius mind which designed everything. This has nothing to do with religion. This mind is the ultimate, absolute pinnacle of science, as we still constantly make new discoveries concerning life and mass through science.

Professor Stephen Hawking - a professed atheist - said, "The remarkable fact is that the values of these numbers seem to have been very finely adjusted to make possible the development of life."

My question is, "Who adjusted these numbers?"

Max Planck (Nobel Quantum physicist) said, "We must assume... the existence of a conscious and intelligent Mind. This Mind is the matrix of all matter."

Werner Heisenberg (Nobel Quantum physicist) said, "The first gulp of natural sciences will make you an atheist, but at the bottom of the glass God is waiting for you."

If we accept this ultimate mind to be God, then we should also believe His Word, as "God is not a man that he should lie." (Numbers 23:19)

This brings us to the next step of doing some basic research in His Word to determine the earth's age.

THE WORLD POPULATION

It is estimated that the world population reached one billion for the first time in 1804. As of March 2012, it reached 7 billion. (Statistics are from USCB) Over a good 200 years the population nearly multiplied by seven.

Some Basic Math:

According to evolution the Homo Sapiens (that is we humans) developed 40,000 years ago. 40,000 years means 200 periods of 200 years.

Every 200 years the population nearly multiplies seven times. However due to harsh living conditions, lack of medical supplies and fighting off dinosaurs, we will be generous towards the evolution theory and will calculate that the population only doubled every 200 years instead of seven times.

29,000 years ago, after 11,000 years we would have 55 periods of 200 years. That is two to the power of 55, or 2<sup>55</sup>, or a total of 36.028.797.018.963.968 – (36 quadrillion, 28 trillion, 797 billion, 18 million, 963 thousand and 968 people). This is close to 4½ million times the present day world population of 7.9 billion. This number divided by the world land area of 510,100,000,000,000 mtr<sup>2</sup> would mean that 29,000 years ago we had 70 people per square meter.

Maybe it is time that the writings of the ultimate Mind or God, also known as the Bible, should be declared as factual concerning our origins - and that in view of human right for religious freedom, where each is free to believe as one wishes, the "Theory of Evolution" should officially be declared a religion.
